Area 51

Redistricting Update

The Area 51 redistricting committee met, and the District 70 ad hoc committee presented its proposal to keep all of Buncombe County in District 70 (this was the plan that was voted on and approved for presentation to the Area 51 redistricting committee, in response to their proposal to divide the district, and county, into two). The Area is trying to do their best to come up with redistricting plans across the state, which is a complex task. There were a few districts that had problems and concerns similar to ours (although we were the only one who came back with our own proposal).

The result of the meeting, and consideration of our proposal and concerns along with feedback from other districts, will mean a slowing down of the process. There are a few districts including ours that need more attention to the ramifications of the division, and the Area is willing to talk more about needs and concerns of those districts. Any decision or changes from Area will be a ways off, so there are no plans to move forward with redistricting in the near future.

From the Area 51 Spring Assembly Highlights:

Ad Hoc Redistricting: The Redistricting Subcommittee continues to need district feedback about their first drafted proposal. Subcommittee members are ready and willing to visit districts, explain their process and guidelines, and listen to feedback.

More about Childcare

As a follow-up to the article we had in the May Mountain Doin's, "Childcare Needed at A.A. Meetings," we have been trying to gather information about this issue. Several AA members we have talked to have told us that while their group doesn't have a formal childcare arrangement, they have no problem with women showing up at the meeting with their babies. If the babies become agitated or start crying, the mothers usual take it upon themselves to step outside. Other groups have had parents come with their young children who sit off to the side, usually reading or playing video games, sometimes with headsets on. And again it has not been a problem as long as the child is not disruptive. But some groups have been concerned about having older children attend closed meetings, feeling it may make some members uncomfortable sharing certain things and concerned about the issue of anonymity.

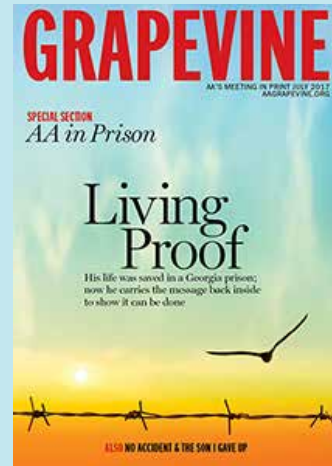

We spoke with a couple of members of one group that for a while had what seemed like a great childcare arrangement. In the church where they meet, next to the AA meeting space there was a separate room that the church uses for daycare so it had lots of toys for the children. And there was a back door from this room to a playground for children to use when the weather was good. Different group members would volunteer to supervise the children and for a time it seemed like someone was always willing. But recently they have had (continued inside) to discontinue this service. Some of the older children were a problem at times and it had just gotten too difficult to provide supervision on a consistent basis.

We still feel like this is a needed service and we hope to get more input from other groups as to how they handle the issue of childcare at their meetings. Below are two pieces reprinted from AA World Services literature:

Parents or Other Caregivers

Getting to meetings and participating in other service-related A.A. activities can be difficult for parents with primary childcare responsibilities or those who have other caregiving responsibilities, such as taking care of a sick parent or family member. Many groups work with the local intergroup/central office to develop a list of meetings where kids are welcome or childcare is available. It can also be helpful to develop a list of A.A. members willing to participate in phone meetings with parents/caregivers who cannot attend meetings in person. Providing single parents or other caregivers with a list of internet meetings also creates opportunities for such members to participate in the kind of A.A. sharing that is so beneficial to all members.

Resources available: Many parents or caregivers participate in online meetings and computer bulletin boards. One source for information about these is the Online Intergroup of A.A., www.aa-intergroup.org

Suggestions for Working with Parents or Other Caregivers

Getting to meetings and participating in other service-related A.A. activities can be difficult for parents with primary childcare responsibilities or those who have other caregiving responsibilities, such as taking care of a sick parent or family member. Accessibilities Committees can support such A.A. members in a number of ways:

- Organize and conduct local workshops on childcare at meetings;
- Research any legal issue that might be involved in setting up child-friendly meetings;

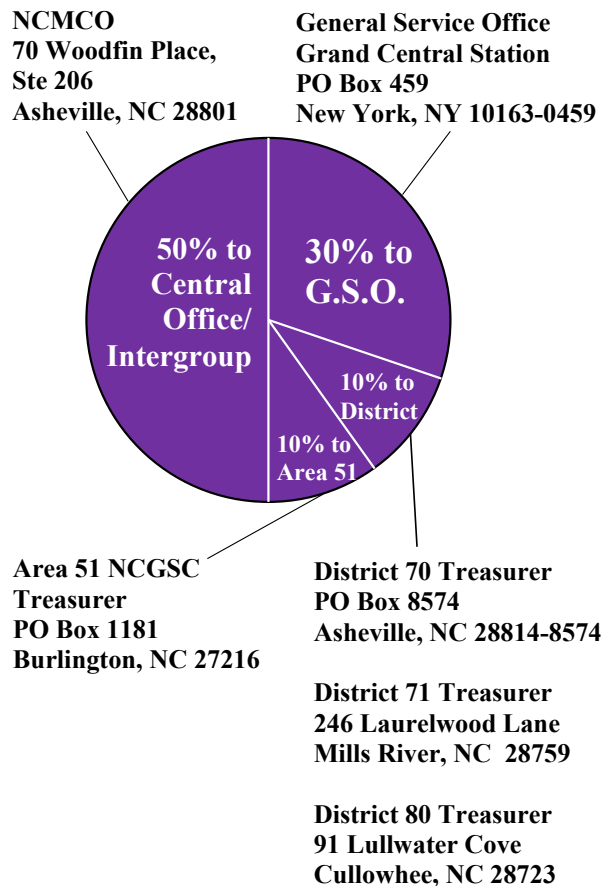

- Work with the local intergroup/central office to develop a list of meetings where kids are welcome or childcare is available;
- Develop a list of A.A. members willing to participate in phone meetings with parents/caregivers who cannot attend meetings in person;
- Provide single parents or other caregivers with a list of internet meetings.

From the "Accessibility Workbook" (M-48I) Copyright © 2017 by A.A. World Services, Inc.

If your group has figured out a good way to provide childcare at your meeting or if you have any "experience, strength and hope" to share on this issue, please give us a call (828) 254-8539. Many thanks!

Next District 70 GSR Meeting - usually held the 2nd Sunday of the month. The next meeting is scheduled for July 9, 2:30pm, at St. Luke’s Episcopal, 219 Chunns Cove Rd, Asheville.

The Buncombe County Detention Facility is in need of support for meetings in the jail – especially for men. The BCDF is now open to orient new AA volunteers. Here is the application: aancmco.org/wp-content/uploads/2017/03/BCDF-VolunteerApplication-Revised-word-1.24.17-2.pdf. If you have any questions call Val, the Volunteer Program Services Coordinator, at the Buncombe County Detention Facility: 828-250-4585. For more information about this volunteer service attend the next GSR Meeting and/or the Service Committees Meeting.

Service Committees Meeting – held the last Tuesday of odd-numbered months. Next meeting is Tuesday, July 25, 6:00pm, at Trinity Episcopal Church, 60 Church St, Asheville 28801.

Bridging the Gap (with treatment facilities) Attend the Service Committees Meeting or contact the TFC Chair at www.ashevilleaa.org; the BTG Chair or co-coordinator at bridgingthegap.asheville@gmail.com or www.btgww.org

District 71:

GSR Meeting – held the 2nd Saturday of odd-numbered months. The next meeting will be Saturday, July 8, 1:00pm at 1620 Willow Rd, Hendersonville. All interested AAs are invited to attend.

District 71 is in need of a Secretary, Grapevine Chairperson and H&I (Hospitals & Institutions) Committee Chairperson. If you are interested in one of these service positions please attend the meeting in July.

Correction Facilities Committee meets the 2nd Saturday of even-numbered months. Next meeting: Saturday, August 12, 1:30pm, 1620 Willow Rd, Hendersonville.

The Corrections Committee is still in need of men volunteers to go into the Henderson County Detention Center. District 71 volunteers go in on Monday nights at 7pm. The Henderson County jail requires a training (1-2hr) that everyone must attend before entering the jail. They had a training in January but hopefully there will be another in the near future. All who are interested in participating in this vital service please attend the Corrections Committee meeting in August or call Central Office – 828-254-8539 – for contact information.

There is a concern about the lack of 12-Step Call Volunteers especially in some areas. The Murphy Central Office only covers a small area.
