

Fork in the Road

by Gina C. - Hamburg, NJ

Young and confused, she identified in meetings, but couldn't face a life without drinking. Would she stay? It was decision time.

As a child, I was socially inept but intellectually precocious. I spoke my first phrase at nine months, read newspapers at age 4 and started college at 16.

I had my first drink when I was 3, emptying the glasses at my parents' 1959 New Year's Eve party. By 4, I was helping myself to the sweet-tasting anisette, creme de cacao and creme de menthe in the liquor cabinet. When I was sick, I kept coming back for the sweet cough syrup in the medicine chest.

I got drunk for the first time on a dare. I had a crush on a 19-year-old draft dodger who was amazed to find out I had never been really drunk. So I came home from school, poured myself a glass of everything I could find, believing that mixing drinks would work faster. In no time, I was flat on my back with the room spinning. My best friend left me with a spaghetti pot next to my bed, into which I inevitably threw up the bright green (thanks to the creme de menthe) liquid. By the time my parents came home from work, it was dark outside, and I had a hangover and a massive headache.

I had no female friends until sixth grade. Having skipped a grade, I was younger and less mature. Because of alcoholism in my family, our finances plummeted. We had no money for the kinds of stylish clothes that my classmates wore. Our house fell into ruin, so the children in the neighborhood avoided us. I was an outcast.

But by 12, I had a shapely figure and learned to get attention from boys. Drinking and flirting were a dangerous mix, especially when I ventured to Germany with my high school chorus for a concert tour. At age 13, I didn't breathe a sober breath for three weeks and spent all my money on beer while classmates bought cuckoo clocks. I thought I sang and danced better drunk. I sure fell in love easier. I learned useful German phrases, like, "I love you," and "Where is the bathroom?" Both phrases are essential if you're drinking a lot of beer.

And then a miracle happened, although at the time I considered it just a coincidence. My freshman year roommate, chosen "randomly" by the college, proudly told me that her father was an alcoholic. I was appalled. My father was one too, but I was ashamed of him. She explained that her dad had been sober for 21 years, leading me to protest that he couldn't possibly be an alcoholic.

When I visited their home, I learned that my roommate's mom was in Al-Anon and all three of the family's kids were in Alateen. They lived and breathed the program. There were AA slogans all over the house.

When I told my dad about my roommate's father, he was intrigued and asked me for his phone number. My dad wanted to know how he did it. And later, when Dad came out of detox, he was a new man. My mom and I were delighted but scared. It was suggested we go to open AA meetings to learn about the disease.

That's when I was blessed with the gift of identification. The speakers I heard couldn't have been more different from me. They were older, male and with a lifetime of consequences from drinking that I couldn't possibly have experienced. I had no job to lose, no marriage to ruin, no children to be taken away from me and no car to crash. But their feelings were the same as mine — the loneliness, the fear, the anger, the constant feeling that I was different, the resentments, the blaming of everything except alcohol for my problems. I saw my life like a fork in the road—disaster or sobriety. But I couldn't imagine giving up drinking forever.

So I embarked on a year of the worst drinking of my life. The progression accelerated. In my heart, I knew I was on the road to self-destruction because the AA seed had been planted. I woke up in strange places, started having blackouts, cut class so often I was close to flunking everything but theater class. All through that year, I kept hearing the AA message from my dad's friends when I came home for holidays and summers. He always invited them to the house after meetings and I sat in the dining room drinking coffee, fascinated by their honest sharing. One time, my mother asked me to sing for our AA guests and I filled a tall glass with vodka, pretending it was water, to "wet my vocal cords." I felt like a fraud.

What caused me to realize the jig was up? Nothing dramatic. I just found myself at a family party unable to get high. I used to get plastered after two or three drinks, but after seven or eight Manhattan cocktails, I felt nothing.

I had learned enough in AA rooms to realize that a change in alcohol tolerance was a dangerous sign. And so, at 19 Dad brought me to my first closed AA meeting, and I was blessed to feel right at home. Heck, I knew half the people in the room!

They welcomed me with smiles and hugs. And best of all, they told me I didn't have to quit forever. I just had to quit for one day.

Many people at my first meeting told me they wished they had found the program at my age. But I also heard, "You're too young to be in AA," and "Honey, I spilled more than you drank." This was when the advice to "Take what you need and leave the rest" came in handy. I simply ignored some people and just kept coming.

You could say I grew up in AA. I finished college, went to graduate school, changed careers a few times, started a business and became a respected member of my profession. AA members told me, "Don't drink no matter what." And I didn't, even when life threw me a few curve balls, like finding out I couldn't have children, getting divorced and losing my dad to this awful disease.

I'm now married to the man of my dreams, who never knew me drunk. Neither did my nieces and nephews, my in-laws, stepchildren and, yes, grandchildren. I came into the rooms a college student and now I'm a grandmother.

My message to any young person coming in is: Please stay. You have so many choices ahead of you. You can achieve anything you want, as long as you stay sober and put your life in the care of a Higher Power.

CPC/PI Committee – These are two separate service committees – "Cooperation with the Professional Community" and "Public Information" – chaired by George M. Literature and Grapevine Committee – They have a new chairperson for this committee – Maria E. She is seeking committee members! The focus of the committee is to ensure that A.A. literature and Grapevines are available to all groups, service meetings, and other A.A. events. Through displays, supplies of A.A. catalogs and order forms, and A.A. workshops, these volunteers help A.A. members and other committees to carry the A.A. message through our literature. If you are interested in volunteering, please attend the next GSR Meeting.

Treatment Facilities Committee – Joe L. is Committee Chair. It's all about bringing the message of recovery to alcoholics in treatment facilities and to set up means of "bridging the gap" from the facility to an A.A. group. For more information, please attend the next GSR Meeting.

For updated meeting information check the website: https://aancmco.org/index.php/events/

After-hours Phone Volunteers Needed

Central Office is looking for volunteers to answer the phone from 1:30pm in the afternoon until 9:30am the next morning. Most nights don't see more than a call or two, rarely after 10 or 11pm. Most callers are interested in meeting information – so volunteers should have the internet at hand to access the meeting guide.

One year of sobriety is required. Information can be found at: https://aancmco.org/index.php/about-ncmco/service/(scroll down to "After-hours Phone Volunteer") or call Central Office at (828) 254-8539.

The Birthday Plan

For many years, A.A. members have celebrated their sobriety by sending a contribution to the General Service Office. Your birthday (or anniversary) money helps to support G.S.O.'s services to members and groups throughout Canada and the U.S., to ensure that the A.A. message is carried around the world. The services that G.S.O. provides the A.A. groups cost more than $6 per member per year. Members customarily contribute $1, $2 or even $5 a year for each year of sobriety—others may give a penny or a nickel a day for each day of their sobriety. You may request these Birthday Contribution Envelopes (FR-5) from G.S.O., for yourself or for your group, at no charge.

(Reprinted from Box 4-5-9 Vol. 62, No.1 / Spring 2016)

Birthday Contribution Envelopes from G.S.O. are available for free at Central Office.

We also have envelopes for sending Birthday Contributions to the Central Office!

Stop by the Office to pick up envelopes for yourself or your group members. Or call us (828-254-8539) and we will mail envelopes to you. We thank all the A.A. members and groups who donate so generously!

Need to update your Group's anniversary list? Call Central Office - 828-254-8539 or send a new list to: info@ncmco.net

STORY SOLICITATION

Fifth Edition of the Book Alcoholics Anonymous —Big Book

Deadline for submissions: October 31, 2022

Online submission: aa.org/submit-bigbook-english-5th

The Preface to the Second Edition of the Big Book explains that revisions to the personal history section of the book were made in order "to represent the current membership of Alcoholics Anonymous more accurately, and thereby to reach more Alcoholics." In that spirit, the 2021 General Service Conference recommended that "a Fifth Edition of the Big Book, Alcoholics Anonymous, be developed, including an update of stories to better reflect the current membership, keeping in mind the 1995 Advisory Action:

"The first 164 pages of the Big Book, Alcoholics Anonymous, the Preface, the Forewords, 'The Doctor's Opinion', 'Dr. Bob's Nightmare", and the Appendices remain as is."

In response to the 2021 General Service Conference Advisory Action requesting the development of a Fifth edition of the book Alcoholics Anonymous, the trustees' Literature Committee is seeking a wide range of A.A. recovery experience of members in the Fellowship.

The trustees' Literature Committee is searching for recovery stories of our members for possible inclusion in the Fifth Edition which are from a broad cross-section of our local communities, all stories are of value. As Bill writes on page 29 of the book Alcoholics Anonymous: "Our hope is that many alcoholic men and women, desperately in need, will see these pages, and we believe that it is only by fully disclosing ourselves and our problems that they will persuaded to say, 'Yes, I am one of them too; I must have this thing."

It is the Literature Committee's shared hope that any new stories from our current membership will help future alcoholics to identify and find recovery in the pages of a Fifth edition. The suggested format for typed manuscripts is 3500 words, double spaced, in 12-point font. Handwritten manuscripts should be approximately 5 to 6 pages. Please include your complete name, address, and email/phone information on the first page of the submission. A copy of your manuscript should be retained for your files.

The anonymity of all authors will be observed whether their story is selected for publication or not. Stories will be accepted in English, French or Spanish. If you have any questions, please write to 5BBStory@aa.org

Instructions for submitting your manuscript:

IWC MISSION STATEMENT

The International Women's Conference is the bridge to a better understanding of the Alcoholics Anonymous philosophy and way of life because of our special needs in sobriety as women. We as women members of Alcoholics Anonymous are survivors. We have found a way to obtain meaning, depth, and responsibility in our lives. This came about out of desire, decision, determination, and spiritual guidance. An elevated sense of belonging that is brought about by the special services and a special need provided by our Women's Conference is our goal.

SELF-SUPPORTING

This conference is self-supporting through the money paid by registration fees, banquet tickets, and contributions. No AA funds are used to pay for this event. Conferences are special events and require money, as well as months of planning and preparation. Expenses include contracted costs for the use of meeting rooms, preparation of food and beverages, printing for registration forms, flyers, program schedules, postage, supplies and many other costs. The registration fee and banquet fees are kept as low as possible to meet our financial goal of breaking even. Our contractual commitments to the hotel require a guaranteed number of hotel rooms and banquet sales. Thank you for your support and your help in achieving our financial commitments.
